Compressor Users International Forum 2008: Programme brochure now available

Frankfurt, 13 May 2008 – 37 Technical Papers are arranged for the International Compressor Users Forum, which will take place with the ninth Pump Users Forum and the sixth EFRC-Conference (European Forum for Reciprocating Compressors) on the 28th and 29th October 2008 in the Congress Centre Düsseldorf. With three forums consolidated, the “International Rotating Equipment Conference – Pumps and Compressors” will be launched. The common programme brochure is now available.

The VDMA Compressors, Compressed Air and Vacuum Technology Association will promote the Compressor Users International Forum. This is the second event in its kind and one of the most important in Europe. Conference language is English, but one part of the presentations of the sessions will be interpreted in German.

Accompanying to the preparation of the Technical Papers the organisation for the Technical exhibition is going on. Up to now almost half of the floor space is already occupied.

At the previous day, on the 27th October 2008 two Training Seminars will be offered for the first time. These deal with the topic "Safe operation of pumps and compressors – Focussing the interfaces between manufacturer and user" and more scientifically oriented with the topic "Where does research and development of pumps and compressors go?". These Training Seminars gives an in-depth overview about specific technical themes. They offer a good opportunity especially for young engineers for their personal promotion.

Registration to the Compressor Users International Forum 2008 is already possible, early bird registration will be offered until 31. August 2008.

More information about the programme, the Technical Exhibition and the Training Seminars are available on the website www.introequipcon.com.
